

APPENDIX

A Short List of Anti-Mormon Literature, 1837 - 1860

Note: While most of the entries are of British pamphlets published between 1837 and 1860, some British book-length works, as well as American books and tracts, were deemed significant and influential enough to be included in the list.

Alcock, [P?]. A Journey up the Mississippi River, from its Mouth to Nauwoo, the City of the Latter-day Saints. [s.l.:s.n., 18 ?].

Alcock, P. Latter-day Saints. A Letter from the Reverend P. Alcock, Baptist Minister, Berwick St. John s, Dorsetshire, to his Nephew, E. H. Webb, Elder in the Church of the Latter-day Saints, Bristol, late of Cheltenham . . . Bristol: William Taylor, 1842. 8 p. 21cm. Flake 42.

Anti-Mormon Tea Meeting. Tuesday, September 29, 1857. Coventry: Taunton & Son., Burges. 1857. Broadside. 24½x18cm.

Appalling disclosures! Mormon Revelations, being the History of Fourteen Females. . . London: H. Elliot, [1856?]. [3]-16 p. 21cm. Flake185a.

Ashley, Francis Busted. Mormonism: An Exposure of the Impositions Adopted by the Sect called Latter-day Saints. . . . London: John Hatchard, 1851. 36 p. 21cm. Flake 209.